Desiring to Leave.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—In response to a request of the United States, Great Britain, France and Germany today notified Secretary of State Bryan they would defer formulating any Mexican policy until after exchanges with the United States.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The navy department today received a dispatch from Rear Admiral Fletcher, at Vera Cruz, reporting the presence of the Diaz party on the Wheeling. The navy department called upon the state department to decide the disposition to be made of the fugitives.

Felix Diaz was given asylum by the American consulate at Vera Cruz and on the gunboat Wheeling on direct instructions from the United States government. A few days ago by Secretary Bryan to Consul Canada, instructing him to shelter Diaz. If his safety was endangered.

U. S. GUNBOAT AS REFUGE.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The gunboat Wheeling is held at Vera Cruz for the particular purpose of affording refuge to all political fugitives as well as Americans and other foreigners who might be in distress. Because of her light draft the Wheeling is able to approach shore, whereas big battleships are obliged to anchor six miles out from the city.

Officials here say there is no question whatever of the right of a naval commander to extend asylum to such a fugitive as Diaz, as there are many precedents to support such action.

It is believed the Washington government is prepared to go further, if necessary, and will furnish a marine guard for Diaz, basing such assertion on extra territorial authority on the general allegation of the existence of a state of practical anarchy recognized by international law as sufficient warrant for the exercise of such precautions. It is presumed Diaz will be soon transported to a battleship in the lower harbor and remain until transferred to one of the merchant steamers bound for another port.

DIAZ ASKS PROTECTION.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 28.—General Felix Diaz, Jose Sandoval and Cecilio Coon, Mexicans, and Alexander Williams, an American newspaper correspondent, applied to the American consulate during the night for protection. All were taken aboard the United States gunboat Wheeling.

Coon and Sandoval have played prominent parts in Mexican politics. Coon was charged May 24, 1912, in the chamber of deputies by Querida Madero, now minister of foreign affairs, with being the actual murderer of Gustavo Madero. The denunciation was made in connection with a demand for appropriation of $15,000 to be paid Coon for service rendered the government.

FOLLOWER OF REYES.

Sandoval was an attorney at Mexico City and adherent of the late General Reyes, one time secretary of war, who was shot while leading rebels toward the national palace during an attack by Felix Diaz in February this year. Sandoval was arrested March 2, 1912, in Mexico City charged with rebellion when he came there with what purported to be an autograph letter to President Madero from Major Magdon of the United States army stating the bearer and many followers of Reyes in the United States and Cuba desired to return to Mexico City to resume their vocations.

IN MIDNIGHT FLIGHT.

The fact that Diaz and two supporters were refugees aboard the Wheeling was not discovered by the Mexican authorities until this morning. The flight took place after midnight, the three men taking the risk over roof tops, which were guarded by armed men, into the American consulate. The three men dropped over a low wall and made their way into one of the rear rooms of the consulate. When inside they asked that Consul Canada be called. Apparently suffering great excitement they assured him when he came that their lives were in imminent danger. They declared they had knowledge that an order for their arrest had been issued and begged for his protection. Pointing to the waterfront, 200 yards distant, Canada said, "There's a launch, you better make a run for it." The fugitives hesitated at the street in front of the consulate was patrolled by detectives. When they finally left

The door a detective on duty apparently did not recognize them. They walked deliberately through the streets to the pier, where they presented a card from Canada to the officer of the launch. American naval officers hurried them aboard and steamed to the Wheeling. Detectives in front of the hotel were still watching the place long after daylight.

Rear Admiral Fletcher decided this afternoon to transfer Diaz to one of the larger American war vessels. General Maas, commander of the federal troops, appeared amused at the action of Diaz in taking refuge on the Wheeling. L. Blum, an American horseman, arrested last night, has been taken to the capital. It has been learned that Ocean and Sandoval in all probability would have been arrested today.

Mexico City, Oct. 28.—General Diaz was placed on the retired list of the Mexican army today by Minister of War Blanquet, following a telegraphic request from Diaz Sunday that he be allowed to retire. This retirement was sanctioned by Huerta. Diaz held a commission 30 years.

SECURE DELAY IN THAW'S HEARING*New Hampshire Governor Gives Fugitive's Attorneys Time to File Brief.

Rochester, N. H., Oct. 28.—Governor Feltner, after hearing both sides yesterday, granted the request of Harry K. Thaw for a further continuance in the extradition proceedings, setting Nov. 4 as the final date on which his attorneys may file a supplementary brief bearing on the conspiracy indictment returned against their client by the New York county grand jury.

A continuance of two weeks had been requested. William Travers Jerome, who opposed the delay, will be allowed two days to answer the new brief.

Personalities were woven into the argument. Jerome declared that Thaw's counsel, from Governor Stone down, wished to keep "Thaw in New Hampshire as long as possible, as long even as the Thaw open coal and coke mines hold out to burn."

Mr. Stone likened Jerome to the "Hound of the Baskervilles." Jerome described Thaw as a "degenerate, insane criminal," and said that Thaw would have attempted to bribe a grand juror and two jurors during the first trial of Thaw for the murder of Stanford White.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 28.—George B. Caldwell, president of the Investment Bankers Association of America, in opening his second annual convention today, said stocks and bonds were down "almost to panic prices" because of the dissatisfaction of capital with the administrations both of Taft and Wilson.

"Good stocks and bonds," said Caldwell, who is president of a Chicago bank, "are down almost to panic prices, chiefly because of lack of confidence and belief of part of the investors that what we will get will be worse than what we have had, and that corporations, especially railroads, will not be given in the next three years a square deal." Thirty poor would suffer most," he said.

DRYS PLAN A NEW NATION WIDE WAR*Seek to Stop Liquor Traffic by Amending United States Constitution.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 28.—The Anti-Saloon League is planning to wipe out the sale and manufacture of intoxicants in the United States by an amendment to the federal constitution. The outlines of the campaign were told at a luncheon given by the league to 700 Chicago business men at the Hotel La Salle yesterday.

Dr. Howard H. Russell, president of the league, said that members now are drawing up the proposed amendment, and the league is establishing an endowment fund to pay all executive expenses and for the printing of literature.

"After we have solved the interstate problem, to keep liquor out of the prohibition states," he said, "the next step is national prohibition to forbid the manufacture, sale, importation, or exportation of liquor except for medicinal uses. An amendment to the constitution is necessary. Thirty-six states must ratify it."

"We don't expect Illinois to help much in the national campaign," said Dr. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the league, "but we do expect you to keep the liquor interests here so busy that they can't go to the aid of other states."

The educational work is to be entirely along the lines of efficiency, at least among the business men.

"The moral question is one for the clergy and the women," said W. U. Follansbee, an iron manufacturer of Pittsburgh. "The business men must consider the question of efficiency."

Mr. Follansbee said that the saloon is wrong; second that it is inefficient. "What one thing costs you business men as much money as drunken employees? I have had trouble with factory superintendents, salesmen, and office managers, all capable men, except for that one thing."

Mr. Follansbee told how his company had started a town in order to get away from the saloons.

"There are six churches," he said, "and one policeman. The answer is that there are no saloons."

Mayor W. W. Bennett of Rockford declared the present prosperity of his city, which has been both "wet" and "dry," is due to prohibition.

"The manufacturers of Rockford realize the bad effect of liquor. To save money which they might have to pay under the employers' liability act, they do not permit men to enter the plant. If they have taken anything to drink. The governor of Illinois in his 'safety first campaign' would find it worth his while to investigate the number of accidents caused by drink."

At the close of the luncheon, the guests passed resolutions favoring the support of Chicago business men to the movement, as follows:

Resolved, That we, the business men of Chicago here in session, today approve the national and state plans of the Anti-Saloon League, and appeal for the cooperation of the business men of other localities of the state.

FORMER MAYOR'S

Author, Kills Self on Chicago Street.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 28.—Alexander T. Lloyd, retired business man, hunter and author and a son of the fourth Mayor of Chicago, shot and killed himself last evening in front of a restaurant at 21 North Western avenue. He lived at 2315 West Washington boulevard and was 55 years old.

He was dead when witnesses reached his side. The body, in accordance with instructions contained in one of two notes found in the clothing, was removed by the police to Hursen's undertaking establishment at 2346 West Madison street. No reason was given in the notes for his act.

Mr. Lloyd retired from active business many years ago and was said to have lived on the royalties on several patents. He was walking south in North Western avenue when he stopped in front of the restaurant, drew a revolver and without hesitation persons saw him fall.

The first note, unaddressed, read: "Please telephone to Mrs. Emma C. and ask her to have Grace come home at once so she will not learn the news among strangers."

The second note, addressed to the police, read:

"Please send my body to Hursen's undertaking rooms, 2346 West Madison street. Telephone at once to the Chicago Directory company to R. Donnelly or to E. J. Dillon, the manager of that concern."

T. E. Donnelly of Lake Forest, president of the R. R. Donnelly & Sons company and friend of Lloyd, said that "Grace" and "Mrs. Emma C." probably were Mrs. Emma Campbell and Miss Grace Campbell, friends of Mr. Lloyd, but he did not know their addresses.

"Mr. Lloyd was born here, and his father, Alexander Lloyd, was the fourth mayor of the city," said Mr. Donnelly. "He was the author of several books on game birds and fishes and was known widely as a hunter."

John Lloyd of 2110 West Jackson boulevard, a brother, said that the only living relative other than himself was Mrs. John L. Morrison of Ottawa, Ill., a sister. Mr. Lloyd was a bachelor.

New York, Oct. 28.—Stephen J. Stillwell, former state senator, now serving a sentence in Sing Sing for bribery, appealed to William Sulzer, while governor, for a pardon, and offered in return to expose the inner workings of "boss rule" in New York, "whereby representatives in the legislature are placed between the alternative of political destruction by failure to obey the boss or violation of their obligations to the people."

The offer was contained in a letter made public by Sulzer today. The offer to turn reformer against Tammany was made by Stillwell Aug. 15, three days after Sulzer was impeached, but weeks prior to his removal.

Stillwell asserted he had been told in advance that Sulzer was to be impeached.

Between 1,200 Diggers and 300 Company Police.

Denver, Col., Oct. 28.—Mobilized in approximately six hours, the Colorado National Guard today began moving toward the Colorado coal fields, where martial law will be established in compliance to a proclamation.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 28.—A battle is believed to have started at 5:30 this morning between approximately 1,200 strikers and possibly 300 mine guards. Troops are hastening to Delacoe, Tobacco and Berwind.

Lack of ammunition brought to an end a hot three hours' battle between striking miners and guards in the coal fields today. One report was none was injured, while others say 15 guards were killed. A company report says only one guard was killed.

STRIKERS SEIZE ENGINE.

Strikers captured seven guards yesterday at Chicocosa Junction, eight miles north of Trinidad. It was also reported that they captured a Colorado and Southeastern engine.

For half an hour more than 125 strikers battled at a mile range with several loads of mine guards who were traveling over the Colorado & Southern railway tracks, ostensibly on their way to the Hastings mine.

The strikers at the Ludlow camp had been led to believe that the guards were intending to attack the tent colony and consequently set about to defend their temporary homes.

Train derailleurs were set up on the tracks, the switches were thrown wherever possible and a number of the strikers, armed with high powered rifles entrenched themselves at a point a mile and a half from the tent colony adjacent to the railroad.

TRAIN BACKS AWAY.

When the train first came into sight a mile away the strikers began firing. The engineer stopped the train immediately and the guards returned the fire with vim.

After half an hour of fighting, in which three guards are reported to have been slightly wounded the train backed away and the strikers returned to the colony.

Upon the return of the strikers to their colony they were lustily cheered by those who had remained behind to make the last defense in event the guards were able to carry out their rumored intention of attacking the colony.

HOPING FOR SETTLEMENT.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 28.—The initial steps in the movement to bring the copper strike to an end have failed, but the intermediaries today said they were still hopeful that their efforts would be successful.

Circuit Judge P. H. O'Brien and former Sheriff Byers of Houghton county are interceding with the strikers. In the first proposition the strikers said they would waive recognition of the Western Federation of Miners and declare the strike off if they could retain their union memberships and not be discriminated against on that account.

This was the only request made by the strikers but as it was regarded by the operators as a recognition of the federation it was refused.

The operators here are adhering strictly to their determination that hereafter no members of the federation will be employed. Messrs. O'Brien and Byers will again confer with the strikers and endeavor to arrive at some other basis of agreement to be submitted to the operators.

Meanwhile hundreds of men are being brought into the district to replace the strikers, two special trains arriving with men yesterday.
